FOREIGN CAPITAL

Fact Dwelled Upon in First Message of President Yuan Shi Kai.

HE MAKES GOOD IMPRESSION

Realizes Danger of Trying to Modernize Country Too Rapidly.

Peking, China, April 20.—In his first presidential message, delivered in the form of a speech at the opening to-day of the session of the Advisory Cuncil, which is practically a provisional Senate, Yuan Shi Kai, President of the Chinese republic proclaimed that the principles of the new Chinese government must be the maintenance of order in the interior, the schievement of progress and the retention of external friendships, which are necessary to the existence of China.

The attitude of foreign powers in recent year.

friendships, which are necessary to the existence of China.

The attitude of forcish powers in recent years, he said, had been such as to merit the gratifude of China. The people, he said, should rejoice over the establishment of a republic after thousands of years of despotism.

The most important matter at present, the President said was finance. Foreign capital was essential to China, and the government was drafting in principles of a financial reform.

Yuan Shi Kai recommended plans for lightening the burden of the people, for proper survey of lands, for a new scale of taxation, for a unitude system of currency and for standard weights and measures.

Yuan Shi Kai pointed out that with the establishment of a republic, industries of forestry, industry and commarce would be established, he sa'd, to encourage and subsidize industries and to educate students. The mining laws, too, must be defined and Chinese dress which marked the defunct National Assembly was almost under the present out of a membership of 120.

Scleeted in Primary.

In discussing the matter last night Mr. Goode said that the election officers were picked by the Jefferson Ward members of the committee for the Jefferson Ward precincts. Mr. Goode saided that if the voters of Jefferson Ward were not satisfied w'th their representatives on the city committee, they had only themselves to blame, since the city committee was selected in a Democratic primary, and the people of his ward in recent weeks have loudly and emphatically declared themselves to be primary advocates.

Predictions differ as to the probable vote to be cast to-day. There are more than 16,000 qualified voters, according to figures issued by Deputy City Treasurer Isaac Held, and Deputy Treasurer J. W. Bronaugh, Jr., who receives poll taxes for South Richmond. But the common belief was that the total vote polled to-day would not exceed 6,000. The city was redistricted into four wards with no proximately 25,000 population each, and doubt is expressed whether any ward will cast as many as 1,500 votes. The anticipated average vote in each ward is placed at 1,500.
